TRUE GAMBLERS—The long shot players—came into their own at the Edmonton race track Monday. Four persons collected on record-breaking daily doublets of $2,171.75. Mrs. Hattie Melton of the Harlem Chicken Inn, with little girl was one of the lucky four. She bought three tickets on Lone Flag winner of the first race and "didn't know why." —Photos by Art Photo Service

SPLITTING A DOUBLE ticket with a pal was no handicap at Edmonton race track Monday. Harry Zavick, left, of Georgia Cafe, and Bill Dubyk, Empire Hotel, each had a half interest in fat $2,171.75 double payoff, largest in Edmonton's history. Mrs. F. G. Ballachey of High River held fourth ticket.

WONDERFUL NEWS indeed was this reading on board at Edmonton race track Monday, revealing a record-breaking payoff of $2,171.75 for Daily Double. Four persons cashed in on three winning tickets sold on the combination of Lone Flag to Count Lavender. Winner of first race, Lone Flag, built up golden double pot by paying $74 for a $2 nose bet.

High Living Cost Said Not Fault of Farmer

Disclaiming responsibility for the imminent rise in beef prices, the Alberta Farmers' Union said today that "the market" had not caused the high cost of living nor its continued rapid increase and no one is entitled to criticize them on that score."

Disclaimer was embodied in a two-page press release explaining the situation on the lines of the embargo on Canadian cattle to the United States.

WANTED CONTROLS

In quoting R. B. Russell, A.F.U. vice-president, the statement read:

"It is true that the A.F.U. welcomes the action of the Federal government which is of such benefit to the farmer, but the market is responsible for other facts which must be remembered."

"For instance, the A.F.U. has consistently supported the demand for re-imposition of price controls and necessary administrative steps to keep down the cost of living."

"We are always ready to do our share in seeing that every Canadian farmer gets a fair share of the cost of living, but we cannot do that if we are to play Santa Claus."

In 1947, 10 per cent of Alberta farmers (61,881) had a gross income of less than $2,500 and the Dominion figure was 11 per cent. The figure showed that farmers' incomes have risen higher than ever year ago.

"Even if the price goes up, the farmer will not get a cent more for the extra cost of living index."

Carl Stinson, A.F.U. president, had proposed recently that the all that should be lifted but ex-

Voting Slow In City Up to Noon

DRO's, However, Expect Big Rush Before Polls Close

Between 10 and 15 per cent of Edmonton's 83,000 voters turned out at the polls up to noon today to choose their next provincial government representatives.

IN ELECTION

The Bulletin, CFRN Bring You Results

Edmonton residents will be given complete coverage of today's provincial election through the combined facilities of The Bulletin and radio station CFRN.

Elaborate preparations have been made in the news room of The Bulletin to keep up-to-the-minute results to the public from every constituency in the province.

Bulletin reporters will staff all committee rooms in the city while the wires of the Canadian Press, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the telephone and radio stations will bring in returns from points outside Edmonton.

Edmontonians in the police close in Edmonton at 7:00 o'clock CFRN will start broadcasting results of the election from its news room. The station will be on the air continuously with these bulletins and a complete address system will give results outside the Bulletin building.

Returning Officer G. G. Purvis said that "things are running smoothly," although a lot of complaints" from non-elective voters.

Tune into CFRN tonight and watch The Bulletin tomorrow for complete election coverage.

Mercury Will Climb Today

Edmonton's weather is continuing to become warmer after last week's cool spell. The weatherman says the mercury will climb to about 80° by noon today.

At noon there will be a slight breeze with a 15 mph breeze from the west to about 10 mph.

Weatherman says a warm front at 10 a.m. today will bring in the Dominion public weather office at Edmonton and valid until midnight Wednesday follow.

SYNOPSIS

Fine warm dry weather will prevail on the western prairies today with temperatures ranging from 70° to 80° in most forecast regions, and to near 90° in the Medicine Hat and Swift Current regions.

A young pimped man tried to hold up a branch bank in Comiskey, Indiana, but the manager, white-haired Miss Connie Bernice, 26, gathered up the money and locked it in the vault. The man fled.

Ottawa city council voted 16 to 6 against turning suburban Rockcliffe Park over to the federal government for a Royal Canadian Mounted Police training site. The spot, said the alderman, has been a public playground and picnic spot for Ottawa children for 12 years, and as such it should be saved. He said, "In my opinion that their majesties would be pleased with him."

FINAL TRIBUTE

About two hours before he died the 53-year-old Ruth had received one of the final tributes from his medical team.

The tribute came from Hawaiian schoolchildren, who sent him a wreath of 37 orchids.

The tribute was presented to Ruth by his lawyer, Melvin Lowenthal, who said Ruth looked at the flowers and said, "I am grateful."

The announcement of Ruth's death brought the first official review that he had been suffering from cancer.

A group of children numbering about 150 had gathered in front of the hospital some time before Ruth died.

When the children heard Ruth was dead, they were visibly affected.

A Reuter's report from London said Ruth had been ill with cancer for a year.

The Tribune said Ruth had been suffering from cancer for a year.

The movement was supposed to have been secret.

The

A Permanent Voters' List

More through the fault of the system than through the fault of election officials, the enumeration of voters this year has been full of errors and omissions.

In Edmonton alone, more than 1,000 names had to be added to the list submitted by enumerators. In 1944, 1,250 names had to be thus added.

Some of the particulars turned in by enumerators were wrong. Names were misspelled. Initials were wrong. Descriptions of voters were in error.

Most of the mistakes, of course, were due to the fact that enumerators are empowered to take information about voters from almost anybody handy. A neighbor, a friend, a landlord—anybody who happens to be around can supply the information for these lists.

This system is manifestly impractical. The only person capable of giving accurate information in such cases is the voter himself, or herself or his wife or her husband. Neighbors may not even be sure that the person about whom information is being given has a right to vote.

Canada's Population Gains

Between June 1, 1947, and June 1, 1948, Canada's population increased by 301,000 people. It was the largest increase in Canadian history, the previous record being in 1946-47 when the jump was 275,000.

In 1941, Canada's population was 11,507,000. The increase since then, 1,376,000, amounts to almost 12 per cent.

The 1948 increase of 301,000 is a 2.2 per cent increase in seven years is wholesome and gratifying growth. It is all the more gratifying in view of the fact that most of this growth is due to a higher birth rate and a lower death rate. Only 99,000 of new

Both the errors and omissions are due to the fact that voters' lists are compiled after the election writs are issued. This means unavoidable haste, with all the political parties harrying the election officials for duplicate lists for the purpose of sending out election literature.

The only sure and logical way to avoid this haste and its consequent mistakes is to maintain a permanent voters' list which could be corrected and brought up to date every year.

In this way, the original compilation and the annual corrections could be undertaken without pressure of time and it could be made illegal to seek information about voters from other than the voter himself.

The permanent list with annual corrections might cost a little more. But it would not be so expensive as an inaccurate list and the irritation of citizens who, in the heat of the election, seem to be able to detect a sinister political plot in every clerical error.

In the history of nations it is shown that natural population increases always run parallel to national vigor. That is to say, biological productivity is nearly always matched by industrial and cultural productivity.

A rising population usually means a more industrious and capable population.

In other words, Canada is growing, not only in quantity, but very likely in quality as well.

Morning Bus Service Is Poor

The early morning bus service provided by the Edmonton Transit System from the western and northwestern section of the city is completely inadequate to the traffic.

Between 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock every morning a tremendous volume of passengers has to be carried from the Calder, the Jasper Place and general West End districts into the downtown and eastern sections of the city.

The buses that travel on 124 street and eastward on Jasper avenue are quite unable to carry all this direct and feeder traffic in comfort or safety.

When a man or a woman has to get to work at 7 or 8 o'clock in the morning, he or she deserves something better for 5 1/2 cents than bare standing room in vehicles that were not designed, either in construction or horsepower, peculiarities, for standing passengers.

The traveler who is jammed in like a sardine in a can is in no shape for a hard day's work after the trip. And if a truck or car should cut in ahead of the bus, the sudden application of brakes can throw the half the standing passengers on their faces.

The volume of traffic in the West End of the city is too great for the buses provided in the early morning hours.

In some way this service will have to be improved.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Harold L. Weir

'Mare Nostrum' Flows Outside Our Very Door

Like the Roman's Mare Nostrum, it has its own tide tricks and a subtle hazard for all those who are very dooey of this newspaper.

It is known affectionately as "Mare Nostrum" and it is indeed a thick and succulent sort of mud that covers the Jasper avenue whenever there's a shower of rain.

In a rich shade of coffee au lait, Mare Nostrum extends directly seawards, the peninsula crossing in front of this office.

It affords an exhilarating harbor for customs and for many, many barges that sail over the street at uncountable hours for vials, hot and cold, to sustain the journalistic demon.

As a result of this phenomenon with some degree of affection in the same way that a dog loves to growl at the feet of his master.

Peculiarities Of Our Sea

The Roman and then the later Latins gave the name "Mare Nostrum" to the Mediterranean because they were so linked with their history and because it was a part of them-for years and years and years without anybody in the engineering department attempting to do anything about it.

It is only one of many street crimes in Edmonton. But it is unique because of its great amount.

I presume this squatting, obscene sea of mud could be eliminated.

I don't know how to prescribe for it because it is not an engine.

But I don't think I am alone in wanting to see that it is eliminated. I believe that it is beyond the professional capacity of even Edmonton's engineering department.

This peculiarity consists of a certain way a lousiness of the street car rails or something that causes the mud to get into the car.

That is to say, there should be some way to stop the mud from entering the car.

Twenty feet of Mare Nostrum's horrid depths will cause a layer of mud to accumulate on the eye that knocks hell out of one's brain.

Twenty feet of a natural demonstration of nature's forces, of course. But it is difficult to enter lightsome-into the spirit of it. There is no way to stop the mud from entering the eye that knocks hell out of one's brain.

Little Joan knew that her aunt was anxious at having heard from her solder sweetheart and offered to include him in her prayers.

"Thank you, darling," said auntie, "that will give me a lot of peace."

"Good-bye and make me a good girl," said little Joan, "and we'll be solders home safe and single."

"But why?"

"They're asleep."

The voice of a natural demonstration of nature's forces, of course. But it is difficult to enter lightsome-into the spirit of it. There is no way to stop the mud from entering the eye that knocks hell out of one's brain.

Ed Morris—'The Poor Man's Leo Durocher'—Goes Domestic in Big Way

STRICTLY A FAMILY MAN is this guy Ed Morris, fiery pilot of Edmonton Eskimos of the Big Four Baseball League. Here pop is 'loading' a gun for offsprings Barbara and Eddie Jr.

HANGING OUT THE WASH is only one of the accomplishments of the likeable All-Star utility-man. It's a far cry from the diamond, where Morris fills the bill as a guy that umps can't push around too much.

DIGESTING NEWS of the baseball world and plucking vegetables from his tiny garden are musts in the everyday life of popular Morris. Could be the carefree manager is in for a trimming—a hedge trimming—at the hands of the little woman. On the other he might not put that paper down.

Lucky Fans Cash In On Record Double

BY STAN MOCHER
Edmonton Sports Editor

Santa Claus came early this year to a quartet of lucky horse players judging by what happened at the track Monday. The present visit from St. Nick resulted with a $6.14 shot called Long Shot, apparently Jimmy Jones, who got $100 on the outside, to race on the card and Count Lavender ($10.25) scored in the second to complete a breathtaking daily double payout that went to—hold your hats—$11,312.

When it came time to collect the $1,000, the lucky Edmontonians—Mrs. Hattie McLean, Mrs. Anna McLean, Mrs. G. Ballachay, the visitor from a friend in Herring Zinc—walked into the office of the track, and from High River, could pass the necessary credentials through the wickets.

This is the all-time in the history of the track.

Montana's king-size daily double return was the largest in local history and the third biggest since the so-called Sport of Kings came to the prairies. More than six years ago a $12.00 payoff of $4,853.55 popped a double header in Park in Winnipeg when Pagan and Minnesota joined forces.

This is the only all-time on the prairies.

On July 12, 1948, Thacher and Edmonton's own Mac of Iron rocketed a $10.00 double dividend that went to $32,880.50 of Calgary's Victoria Park.

Montana's windfall for 'The Three' has been entered in the records as the largest in the history of the track during the past 12 months.

Needless to say the win counted by Long Shot in the ill-fated ones who had 'overlooked' the filly scurrying back to the program for another look at what she had done previously.

It Wasn't in the Cards

The record wasn't too reassuring. The daughter of Arcadian Flyer-Lovely Orb had made four starts this year and finished third in each. She had been up to fifth in a seven horse field last time out, July 27 in Saskatoon.

This one didn't drop out of the clouds. She came from the stratosphere and was expected to consider making a bid in one of its more spectacular phases.

The early excitement in the about-seven-burglars' jaunt is to be taken seriously when Son Dook must be moved up a peg when his Wednesday day chances are being considered.

The colt took the top at the break and won all in wire-to-wire fashion. As for Long Shot, he was well up on the track during the race.

Feature fifth race, dubbed 'The Eagle's Flight,' afforded an outing for Long Shot and Count Lavender to answer the call for Wednesday's 18th running of the Alberta Derby.

Hoar Heads Into Mayfair Semi-Finals

Still red hot after shooting a two under-par round in the qualifying test, Bill Hoar led the way into the semi-finals of the Mayfair club championship with a 7 and 5 victory over another of the links, veteran Jack Stinson.

Hoar clung close to par figures all night in the first round, the fast and most exciting part of the afternoon.

Winner of the first round but invariably the chitter in the betting enclosure and paddock got back to 'that daily double.'

Hoar Heads Into Mayfair Semi-Finals

Still red hot after shooting a two under-par round in the qualifying test, Bill Hoar led the way into the semifinals of the Mayfair club championship with a 7 and 5 victory over another of the links, veteran Jack Stinson.

Hoar clung close to par figures all night in the first round, the fast

and most exciting part of the afternoon.

Winner of the first round but invariably the chitter in the betting enclosure and paddock got back to 'that daily double.'

Feature fifth race, dubbed 'The Eagle's Flight,' afforded an outing for Long Shot and Count Lavender to answer the call for Wednesday's 18th running of the Alberta Derby.

Does This One Count?

What happened in the about-seven-burglars' jaunt is to be taken seriously when Son Dook must be moved up a peg when his Wednesday day chances are being considered.

Robertson Assets Go to Hospital

Court Rules on Estate of Late Toronto Telegram Owner

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—(CP)—Mr. Justice G. A. Gale of the Ontario Supreme Court ruled yesterday that the assets of the estate of John Ross Robertson, late owner of The Evening Telegram, be turned over to trustees of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. His judgment, handed down today, also provides that proceeds from unrealized assets, including the Telegram, be turned over as soon as they are sold.

Olga Kochanuk Becomes Bride

Amid a setting of pastel gilding in Sacred Heart Church Saturday afternoon the Rev. Msgr. M. J. O'Gorman solemnized the marriage of Miss Olga Kochanuk to Ted Parham.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olga Kochanuk and the bridegroom of the Mr. and Mrs. J. Parham of Ottawa, Ont.

A white silk dress, the bride's, was given in marriage by her father. It was fashioned with tiny point sleeves, lace bertha and lace hem.

She chose a long veil and carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. A string of pearls was her only jewelry.

Kay Krisko was maid-of-honor and bridesmaids were Helen Pelow, Helen Parham and Margarette Abrassart.

The maid-of-honor's a man's dress, she carried a bouquet of Taisman roses. The bridesmaids chose dresses in shades of yellow and white and all carried bouquets of carnations.

Don Hinders was best man and groomsmen were Dave Little and Ted Parham.

To receive the guests at a reception in the Church hall, Mrs. Parham wore a gray pin-striped dress-suit with a grey hat and corsage of American beauty roses.

A three-tier wedding cake, 10 inches by 8 inches of red peas and graham, decorated the bride's table. Major O'Gorman proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon trip by plane to the Orient, the bride and groom will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Parham, their son, Mr. and Mrs. S. Symaka, Smoky Lake, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tarchuk and Maire Tarchuk of Edmonton, upon their return.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. K. McLean and Michael Stark of Lethbridge, Mr. and Mrs. S. Symaka, Smoky Lake, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tarchuk and Maire Tarchuk of Edmonton.

Receiving the tea-urns were Mrs. E. Hall, Mrs. A. J. Brown, Mrs. C. Alston and Mrs. E. Wood.

Mrs. A. Gillies, Mrs. W. Ironmonger, Miss Dorothy Skov and Miss H. Wood showed the trousseau.

Urge Housewives Take Up Art Hobby

Montreal, Aug. 17—(CP)—Stella Holden, 16, of the Augsburg Lutheran Ladies' Aid, is urging young housewives to take up a hobby or two in hope of finding a use for some of the time they have to spare.

Although Mrs. Ireland has two children, 10 and 12, Mrs. Holden finds time to practice sculpturing under the tutelage of Alton H. Johnson, a local Montreal sculptor. Before coming to Canada she won two art scholarships in England.

Audrey and Peter have found their hobbies already. Audrey has won a bronze medal and taken part in plays. Peter, who takes an aptitude for music, has been taking piano lessons for four months.

Virginia Ball Wed in Vestry

Virginia Ball became the bride of Hugh Cecil Porter in the vestry of Robertson United Church Saturday morning.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kermode of 16647 113 street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Porter of Edmonton.

Rev. D. K. Alan performed the ceremony.

For her blue wedding dress, the bride chose a grey gabardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of deep red roses.

But though clothes are not the only thing that count, a pound of coffee is a rare treat and, naturally, flour and soup are all round.

Food prices are generally as high as in the United States, but Mrs. Larson said Mrs. Kermode's wedding was a success.

White and sweet peas decorated the wedding cake, centred the table which was centred with an old fashioned Talon white taper.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Porter left on a honeymoon trip to the Okanagan valley.

They will make their home in Edmonton.
